TRACTION TRAFFIC DELAYED BY SLEET

Several Cars Forced to Abandon Trips Because of Ice Covered
Trolley Wires.

LATE NIGHT RUNS TEDIOUS

Local Which Left Here at 5 O'clock
Yesterday Afternoon Reached
Franklin at 3 a. m. Today.

Interurban service between Indianapolis and Louisville was in a bad state of confusion today, due to the ice and sleet which covered the trolley wires. Several cars early this morning were annulled and others were unable to make their complete runs. Up to noon today no through cars from Indianapolis had reached the local interurban station. It was expected that service approaching normal schedules would be reinstated this afternoon. As soon as the ice is cut from the wires the cars will be able to make their usual runs.

The local car which left this city at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon had a hard, tedious trip and at 3 o'clock this morning the crew reported that the car had just pulled into Franklin. The car attempted to reach Greenwood arriving there at an early hour this morning. The rest of the trip into Indianapolis was abandoned. Other cars which were on the road after nightfall, when the rain started to turn to sleet and ice began to form on the trolley line, reported hard trips to the closest car barns.

The southbound car which leaves here at 6 a. m. was able to reach Stop 73, a few miles south of the city, when trouble was encountered. Another car from this city was sent south to bring the "cripple" into the local barns for repair. The two cars struggled along for more than an hour before they finally reported at the barns.

Traffic was practically at a standstill after the ice formed on the trolley wires as the circuit was broken. Cars would stand until the trolley wheels melted the ice on the wire, forming a connection. The car would then jump a few feet and another similar delay would occur. The ice was frozen so thick and hard on the wires early today that the ice cutters which are attached to the trolley poles, just in front of the wheels, resulted in little improvement. Later in the day enough of the ice was broken from the wires so that partial schedules could be resumed. At best, however, the movement of the cars was slow.

The trouble experienced by the traction companies today is the first of the kind encountered for two years. Last winter there was not sufficient ice or sleet at any time to interfere seriously with the movement of the cars. The sleet which has fallen previous to last night was not heavy enough to delay traffic. Some trouble was also experienced today by the Public Service Company and the Telephone Company. The wires of their systems were also covered with ice, but it did not form thick enough to cause them to break. The wind which rose last night about the time the temperature began to fall brought possibilities of considerable trouble to electric companies. Many branches and limbs were broken from shade trees during the night. The trees were also covered with ice which weakened their resistance against the wind.

JURYMEN FAIL TO AGREE ON VERDICT

Harrod-Ballard Damage Suit Case
Will Likely Come to Trial
Again Soon.

The jury which heard the case of Dr. N. G. Harrod vs. Melvin Ballard, which was tried in the Jackson circuit court Thursday, failed to reach a verdict and was dismissed by Judge James A. Cox this morning. The jury was in session all of Thursday night. It is likely that the plaintiff in the case will ask for a new trial.

The plaintiff was seeking to recover $200 which he alleged was due him for the loss of a valuable cow for which he held the defendant responsible. It was brought out in the case that the cow got loose and was running at large on the Ballard farm and in an effort to run the animal off of his land, the defendant threw a hammer at the cow breaking one of its ribs which resulted in a cancer which caused its death. Both parties in the case are residents of Tampico.

PROHIBITION BRINGS FEWER POLICE CASES

About 200 Arrested Here in 1917, Last "Wet" Year, Compared to 21 in 1919.

That prohibition has resulted in less police work is shown by a comparison of the number of arrests in 1917, the last "wet" year and 1919. In 1917 about two hundred arrests were made in Seymour, while in 1919 only seventy-one were made. Two years ago 120 of those arrested were held for intoxication. Last year only twenty-one were arrested on that charge.

The cost of the police department in 1917 was $4,000 and last year it was $3,000. Since prohibition went into effect the police force has even reduced one member.

GOOD START MADE BY ENUMERATORS

Census Takers Find People Here
Are Anxious to Give Full Cooperation in Task.

EARLY ESTIMATES ARE MADE

Unofficial Reports of Enumerators
Indicate Population of City
May Reach 8,500.

The census enumerators here who, just one week ago, entered upon the work of counting the people in Seymour and securing other information desired by the census department, report rapid progress and some of them expect to have their work finished by the time allotted by the department. On the first canvass of houses, the enumerators found many people away from home and second calls will be necessary at such places. The enumerators are interested in making the count here as accurate as possible and are getting all information direct from the individuals.

The enumerators have found the people here were familiar with the work of the department and have experienced no trouble in securing all the information desired. That the newspapers have had much to do with explaining the purpose of the census and thereby making the work of the enumerators easier, is the opinion of F. W. Wesner, who is taking the census in the First ward.

"When I call at a home an announce that I am a census enumerator, the people invariably tell me that they had read in the newspaper that the count was to be made and I have lost no time in trying to explain my mission. The newspapers certainly have done wonder work in familiarizing the public with the

LUTHERAN SCHOOL CLOSES ON ACCOUNT OF MEASLES

Board of Directors Will Meet Sunday to Take Further Action
In Matter.

The Lutheran school closed Thursday for an indefinite period on account of the many cases of measles that have developed among the pupils. No time has been set for re-opening the school.

Rev. E. H. Eggers stated today that the school directors decided it would be best to close for a few days rather than to permit the epidemic to spread further. The board of directors will meet for a short time Sunday morning to decide on a time for re-opening the school. The school will not likely open Monday, Rev. Eggers stated and may possibly be closed all of next week in hope that the students who are ill will be fully recovered and that when the school does open there will be a full attendance.

ADDS $25,000 TO SURPLUS

First National Bank Increases Its Permanent Funds.

The directors of the First National Bank at a meeting this week voted $25,000 from the undivided profits to the surplus account of the bank. This brings the surplus fund to $75,000. The bank is making application for additional stock in the Federal Reserve Bank as the law requires every national bank to invest six per cent. of its capital and surplus fund in stock of the Federal Reserve Bank.

This is probably the largest single addition which has been made to the surplus fund of the bank since it was founded in 1865. Since the presidency of C. D. Billings began the surplus funds of the bank have grown from $35,000 to $75,000, more than doubling. The business of the bank in a prosperous condition and it is recognized as one of the strongest financial institutions in Southern Indiana.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF NEW SUGAR RULING

This Commodity Cannot be Included in Combination Sales,
Wyckoff Declares.

PRACTICE HELD AS "UNFAIR"

C. H. Wiethoff Gets Letter Relative to Power of Committee to Determine Fair Prices.

Combination sales of food-stuffs including sugar are prohibited by the federal fair price commission, according to definite word which has been received by C. H. Wiethoff, fair price commissioner for Jackson county. Since sugar has become a highly prized and valued article of food, it has been the practice of some dealers to offer sugar in various amounts if an order of certain size were placed. The fair price commission has ruled that sugar must be sold as an individual commodity and cannot be included in combinations.

The official order comes from Stanley Wyckoff, fair price commissioner for Indiana, and reads: "Please be advised that the selling of sugar in combination with other goods to force purchasers to buy other things in order to obtain sugar, is an unfair practice, and the government has ruled that this practice must be eliminated. Please see that this ruling is enforced in your county, and sugar must not figure in any combination sale."

Mr. Wiethoff has also received a communication from Howard Figg, special assistant to the attorney general relative to the work of the fair price commission.

This letter follows: "Your attention is particularly directed to the fact that the United States Attorneys are dependent upon the Fair Price Committees for the establishment of reasonable margins of profit. The reasonable and fair margin of profit must be fixed by the Fair Price Committees after careful consideration of all factors. The cost of production, marketing, or handling must also be determined to the reasonable satisfaction of Committees, then when sales are made at prices greater than cost, plus the reasonable margin, you have a case which should be taken into court promptly and you will find the United States Attorneys glad to act because you will have given them the necessary cooperation."

"The Act and Amendments cover more ground than the establishment of fair margins of profit, and you are urged to study them carefully, always remembering that you and your various committees are the constructive and executive agencies in your state upon whom depend the success of the work and upon whom the United States Attorneys are dependent for facts and opinions upon which to base successful prosecutions."

LeMay admitted meeting Lawson in the road, and firing two loads from a shotgun into Lawson's left breast. Lawson rose from a wagon on which he was riding and was found lying in the snow at the side of the road one hour later. Some time ago Lawson accused LeMay of stealing his chickens and it is said the shooting was the direct cause of a quarrel over that.

WALLACE NOT TO ATTEND SIGNING

American Ambassador Will Not Participate in Exchange of Ratification of Treaty.

By United Press

Paris, January 9—American Ambassador Wallace announced today that he will not attend the signing of the German protocol or the exchange of ratifications of the peace treaty scheduled for tomorrow afternoon. It was understood his announcement was made upon instructions from Washington.

The supreme council today received the report of the inter-allied commission which has drawn up a complete list of German war guilty for trial by allied tribunals.

The commission's report sets forth the methods of procedure to be followed in the trial. Under terms of the Versailles treaty Germany must give up the accused the moment the treaty becomes effective. The supreme court today declared to decide to fix within a few days a definite date for convocation of the executive council of the league of nations which President Wilson will summon. The meeting probably will be secret, it is understood and will be directed by the various allied premiers.

The conference of prime ministers here today is reported to have taken up discussion of settlement of Fiume. The ministers met in secret session.

LEGISLATURE MAY BE CALLED NEXT WEEK

Expected Governor Will Have Sufficient Pledges by Late Tomorrow.

By United Press

Indianapolis, January 9—The legislature will be in session by the latter part of next week for the purpose of ratifying the national woman's suffrage amendment according to opinion expressed at the state house today.

It is understood that Governor Goodrich will require the pledges of two-thirds of the members of each house that they will take up nothing but the suffrage amendment before a call will be issued. According to officials of the Indiana Woman's Franchise League, a sufficient number of pledges probably will be in by tomorrow afternoon to assure the calling of the session.

An order for the special session already has been prepared and will be sent out the moment the women turn over to the Governor the pledges of two-thirds majority for his plan. It is said that notice of not more than two or three days will be given, enabling the assembly to convene next week, if present plans work out.

LEADERSHIP OF PARTY AN ISSUE

Democrats Must Choose Between President Wilson or William J. Bryan.

WILSON TAKES FIRM STAND

Insists Upon 1920 Campaign Being Fought out on Treaty Without Any Reservations.

By United Press

Washington, January 9—The democratic party today was faced with the alternative of following President Wilson's leadership and making the peace treaty an issue in the November election, or following W. J. Bryan's leadership and securing quick ratification on the best compromise terms possible.

In the opinion of party leaders it did not seem likely today that Bryan's appeal to the Jackson Day banquets would have the effect of splitting the party or weakening Wilson's control. According to widespread belief here the treaty will go into the 1920 campaign as the paramount issue in spite of Bryan's argument against such a course.

Wilson's message failed to clear up the question of whether he will be a third term candidate, but democratic leaders understand he will not be, although he may participate in the campaign, swinging his influence to the candidate whom he deems best fitted to carry on his work for the treaty, and campaigning actively for the election of the senate which will ratify the document as he wants it ratified, that is, without reservations that alter its meaning.

Bryan in his fight for a quick compromise apparently stands alone. With the possible exception of former Ambassador Gerard, the other speakers welcomed the idea of making the treaty the big 1920 issue.

A New Serial Begins Tonight.

"The Black Secret," by Robert W. Chambers, Pearl White's latest Pathe serial, a striking combination of the talents of the world's most famous serial star and America's most popular author is arousing unusual interest.

"The Black Secret" is Robert W. Chambers at his best, and serves to prove conclusively what he himself has proved many times before, that he is as much a master of the engrossing, thrilling mystery story as he is of the smart society novel with which his name has long been associated. Without once resorting to the—bizarre or the impossible, Mr. Chambers has fashioned a tale of the most intensely mystifying and gripping type.

In all her long and successful serial career under the Pathe banner, Miss White probably has never had a role that more perfectly fitted her than that of Evelyn Erith, the heroine of "The Black Secret." Her peculiar talents for furnishing thrills, for dominating through sheer personality all the scenes in which she appears without detracting in the least from the value of the work of her associates, for doing things that are typically Pearl White in a way all her own, are given the fullest play. Those who have followed her in her many Pathe serials will find that she has taken the utmost advantage of the possibilities of her best role. "The Black Secret" will be shown at the Majestic theatre on Friday of each week.

TORPEDOED!

Don't blast your Liver and Bowels, but take "Cascarets."

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, bad taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach and colds—

Are you keeping your liver and bowels clean with Cascarets, or shocking your insides every few days with Calomel, Salts, Oil and violent pills?

Cascarets work while you sleep; they cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all of the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Cascarets never gripe, sicken or cause inconvenience and Cascarets cost so little too.

SOCIAL EVENTS

INDIANA STUDY CLUB.

The third of a series of lectures on "English History and English Literature," which is being given by Mrs. Demarehus Brown before the members of the Indiana Study Club, was given at the meeting held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. M. Mains, West Seventh street. Despite the inclement weather a large audience was present to hear the address. In addition to the members of the club and a number of invited guests, the Senior girls of the Shields High School, who are members of the English Literature class attended the meeting. The subject was "Robert Burns."

Mrs. Brown has appeared in this city a number of times and needed no introduction to her audience. She opened her address by mentioning the important influence which the two Scottish writers, Burns and Scott, have exerted over Scotland. "Scotland can never die until the words of Burns and Scott have gone out of existence," she stated. Burns was the first writer to introduce into English literature the new voice of the changing society, the spirit of democracy.

He was born of poor parentage, although the Scottish peasantry were of a very high type of people, and received a meagre education, because of the high cost of learning. Each family made an especial effort to have at least one child educated. In his youth he was famed as a singer and writer of verse but for years published nothing. In 1786 he was persuaded by friends to publish his first poems, for which edition he received twenty guineas.

His first works contained a three-fold rebellion against what man had done to life. These were social, political and religious.

In 1787, Burns was invited to Edinburgh, at which place he spent the winter. His life in Edinburgh changed the tone of his writings, which were never the same thereafter. A few years later he returned to Edinburgh, but had been forgotten by the people of that city, and returned to the highlands. Because of poverty and his obligation to his children, he was forced to become a tax collector. His last days were spent at Dumfries, where he died July 21, 1796, at the age of thirty-eight. Not only Scotland, but the people of the whole world class Burns, as their own, because of the simplicity of his works which were written in the dialect of the common people. He was given an elaborate funeral. The house which he occupied is still kept intact as a memorial to him. It still contains the same furniture and is much the same as when the poet was living.

In closing her address, Mrs. Brown spoke briefly of the memorials to the writer.

Misses Mabel Shutt and Elva Jones, of Seymour, were guests of Mrs. Mose Gumble, Friday and Saturday, and attended at the Chamber of Commerce Hall, Friday Night.—North Vernon Plain Dealer.

BUSH REFUSES TO SIGN AGREEMENT

Lieutenant Governor Says Legislators Cannot Limit Session To One Day.

LETTER TO MISS BENBRIDGE

Tells President of Franchise League He Favors Ratification of Amendment.

Lieutenant Governor Edgar D. Bush of Salem, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, has refused to sign the pledge for a one-day session of the Legislature to ratify the Federal suffrage amendment. In a letter to Miss Helen Benbridge of Terre Haute, president of the Woman's Franchise League of Indiana, he declares that the members of the Assembly have no right, when not assembled, to determine the action of the body nor to fix the time of adjournment.

Mr. Bush also contends that the secretary of state is bound by the constitution to bring all bills unsigned by the Governor before the Assembly and that the legislators would be obliged to give consideration to them.

His letter to Miss Benbridge is as follows:

"I am in receipt of your letter advising me that the Governor has promised the Franchise League to call the Legislature in special session for the purpose of ratifying the Federal suffrage amendment, if an agreement from the members of the General Assembly can be obtained, in advance of the call, to act only on the suffrage amendment."

"I am in favor of the ratification of this amendment without further delay. I regret very much that the Governor has seen fit to put this condition to his agreement to call the special session. The Governor, the members of the Legislature and myself have all taken a solemn oath to support the constitution of our state, and I can not see how I can sign this pre-session agreement to limit the session to the consideration of the suffrage amendment only and still remain true to my oath to support the constitution. In fact no one can do so, in my opinion, if we are to retain our present form of government we must retain the three departments, the legislative, the executive and the judicial, created under and by the sovereign will of the people through our constitution, and we must preserve them and protect them against outside encroachment or interference from any source.

"Ours is a government by law and not by men and a profound regard for the organic law, the constitution, must be adhered to by those entrusted with the making of laws, if we expect the proper spirit of law obedience to prevail.

"At present when certain lawless elements in our state are setting at defiance the organic and statutory

Are You Sick and Discouraged?

Do you get up in the morning more tired than when you went to bed? Are you nervous, fagged out, irritable and easily exhausted?

These symptoms simply mean that you have not a sufficient supply of iron, oxygen and the natural cell-salts that your blood requires to keep your body strong, vigorous and healthy.

Every disease that afflicts the human body is due to the lack of one or more of the natural cell-salts in the blood. Pain, fever, headache, backache, nervousness, anaemia, dyspepsia, biliousness, chills, dizziness, congestion, constipation, etc., are but Nature's warning signals that the cells of some part of your body are starving for the lack of their natural food.

All diseases that are curable are cured in a natural way through the circulation of the blood which is carried by the blood vessels and transudes through the walls of the veins and capillaries into the surrounding tissues. When the blood contains the proper amount of cell-salts and red blood cells, the whole body glows with health and vitality—the eyes sparkle—sleep is refreshing—and you are free from aches and pains.

REOLO combines the cell-salts that the blood must have to nourish the body and keep it well—in a form easily assimilated by the blood. REOLO absorbs the oxygen from the air in the lungs and carries it into the blood—rapidly increasing the number of red blood cells—and the amount of plasma in the blood, sending through the entire body a stream of rich, vitalized, health-giving blood that nourishes every cell of the nerves, tissues, brain and bone.

Each package of REOLO contains tablets enough for two weeks' treatment. In ordinary cases the treatment should be continued for six weeks to give the blood a rich supply of oxygen, plasma and the cell-salt solution that builds new cells. The complete six weeks' treatment costs but very little and will in most cases restore normal health and vitality.

In chronic cases of long standing or abnormal conditions due to neglect, excessive nerve strain, overwork or prolonged illness, it naturally requires a longer time for REOLO to reconstruct the diseased cells, tone up the heart and nervous system and make the blood rich in red blood cells and plasma, vitalized with oxygen, iron and the health-renewing cell-salts that restore normal health and vigor.

Start the REOLO Tonic Treatment today and you will be delighted with the steady improvement in your health. The large package contains 100 pleasant, tasteless tablets and only costs $1.

January Clearance Sale Continued Until Saturday

The January Clearance Sale at this store has been wonderfully successful—hundreds of people in Seymour, Jackson and adjoining counties have taken advantage of the exceptionally low prices on our big stock of quality goods. There are more cents in a dollar when spent at Ben Snyder's store.

Here is an important thing to consider. Manufacturers see no relief from the present prices, in fact they are going up because of higher wages, soaring material costs and other manufacturing expenses. Goods cannot be sold next year at present day prices. But we bought the goods now on hands at a figure that will warrant them being sold at a big saving to you. We still have winter wearing apparel on our shelves and we are going to put such prices on it that it will be sold now. Thus we will be able to continue our policy of not carrying over one season's goods to the next.

Clearance Sale Prices on Boys' Suits

We have in stock a wonderful assortment of about 200 boys' suits which we will place on sale at extraordinarily low prices—in fact cheaper than the manufacturer can produce them today. These suits are of the latest seam fitting models, of serges, worsteds Oliver Twists and such materials that will stand the hard wear that a sturdy, growing boy will give them.

Lesson 2 January 11 First Quarter SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON PETER AND JOHN HEAL A LAME MAN.—Acts 3. GOLDEN TEXT.—Freely ye have received, freely give.—Matt. 10:8

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL.—Matt. 10:7, 8; Mark 1:23-34; Luke 4:40; John 14:2; 1 Peter 4:11.
PRIMARY TOPIC.—A Lame Man Made Whole.
JUNIOR TOPIC.—Peter and John at the Beautiful Gate.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC.—Faith and a Helping Hand.

The indications are that some months had elapsed since Pentecost. The believers were being taught by the apostles, who were showing their credentials by their mighty works (2:43).
1. The Lame Man Healed (vv. 1-11).
1. The occasion (v. 1). Peter and John were going to the house of worship. They were going up to Jerusalem to worship though they knew full well the corruptions of Judaism. What is needed today is not separation from denominational bodies so much as for those who know the Lord and the higher things of the Christian life to help lead those who lack these things into the better way.

2. The place (v. 2). It was at the beautiful gate which led from the outer to the inner court of the temple. This man was placed at the entrance of the place of worship, because where man comes closest to God he also comes closest to his fellow man. Human instinct is quick to discern this. Beggars are seldom found at doors of theaters and infidel lecture halls.

3. The man (vv. 2, 3). This beggar was infirm from his birth.

4. The method (vv. 4-8). (1) Gained the man's attention (v. 4). Peter and John commanded him to look on them. Having secured his attention they gave him more than he asked or expected. He asked for money and got healing. (2) Peter commanded him in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth to rise up and walk (v. 6). This was the very thing he had been unable to do for so many years. Was not this mocking his very impotency? No! No! It was in the name of Jesus. With the commandment went the ability to do. (3) Peter took him by the right hand (v. 7). This act was meant to give impetus to his faith, not strength to his ankles. (4) The man's response (v. 8). Strength came to his feet and ankle bones at once. He stood, he walked, he leaped and shouted praise to God.

He thoroughly advertised the miracle. He ascribed the honor to God for his healing and walked into the house of God. The one who has experienced the life of Christ will surely make it manifest.

5. The effect (vv. 9-11). The people were filled with wonder and amazement. The multitude ran together to see this wonderful thing. There was no question as to the genuineness of the miracle, for this man was a familiar figure for many years. This miracle may be regarded as a parable setting forth the work of the church in the world. (1) The helpless beggar had to be carried to the temple gate. Men and women out of Christ are spiritually helpless; they need to be brought where the life of God can be applied to them. We should bring sinners to Christ. (2) Taking him by the hand shows the manner of the Christian's help.

11. Peter Witnessing of Jesus Christ Before the Multitude (vv. 12-26).

This miracle focused the attention of the people upon Peter and John. Peter immediately turned their attention from himself to Christ. This is most unlike the claimants to divine power today. Disclaiming power of his own, he seized the opportunity to preach Christ to the people who had assembled. He told them it was faith in Jesus Christ, whom the God of their fathers had glorified, whom they had deliberately delivered up and denied before Pilate when he desired to set him free, and that they desired a murderer to be granted freedom instead. He showed that the disciples were also witnesses that God had raised Jesus from the dead, and charged home upon them their awful guilt; for they had denied the holy one and the just, and chosen Barabbas, a murderer, instead of Christ, and killed the Prince of Life. He appealed to them to repent (v. 19), telling them that they had committed this awful crime in ignorance. God would pardon their sin if they would repent. He assured them that Israel would yet enjoy refreshing seasons from the Lord, when God should send Jesus Christ back to earth to consummate the work of redemption. He appealed to the Scriptures as the basis of his warnings and promises (vv. 22-26).

Get Even With the Gold Mine

A Plain Statement of Facts

Our January Clearance Sale Is Now On

ANNOUNCEMENT of the remarkably low prices which will prevail during the Gold Mine's January Clearance Sale has caused many people to wonder how, in the face of rapidly rising markets, we are enabled to make such marked reductions. We know we are offering some unparalleled values, and we believe you are entitled to know why we are making such price reductions and just how we can afford to do so. Hence, this statement.

To begin with we want you to know that we are not selling these goods below the price we paid for them. That would not be good business and if we did you know we would have to make up the loss in some other way or go out of business. But we are offering you merchandise at considerably less than we can buy it today.

This Is Why We Are Doing It

Due to the advantage of our buying power of five large stores we are able to buy on a closer margin than if we bought for each of our stores as a separate unit. Our buyers were men of foresight and vision. They foresaw that prices would make a tremendous advance and they bought heavily—for our protection and your protection. As a result we have on our shelves merchandise which we are selling to you at prices less than we can buy them today. We could sell the major portion of our big stock of dry goods, millinery and ready-to-wear to jobbers at a figure in advance of what we are offering them during this January Clearance Sale. But we are first of all in business here to serve the people in this community the best we can. Therefore we are not interested in what the jobbers offer us.

Then There Is Another Reason

We invoice our stock annually according to what we expect to retail it for. This means that after thirty-five years of business here our inventory shows a much lower level of cost than present day replacement values. The goods are marked according to our inventory during this January Clearance Sale. Original costs are forgotten. The public gets the benefit of the reduction.

Another Important Reason

Years ago the Gold Mine department Store made it a rule not to give away premiums, certificates or prizes to advertise our business. What is given away without cost must be made up in some other way. We advertise our business entirely and solely through the newspapers. The public has learned that truth has been our watchword in all Gold Mine advertising. Instead of giving away premiums or merchandise we give you better values on everything you buy at our store.

To Sum Up the Clearance Sale

The merchandise on the first floor of the Gold Mine is offered at the January Clearance Sale at prices far under replacement figures.

On the second floor our millinery and ready-to-wear are priced less than cost, pursuing our well defined policy of not carrying over these garments from season to season.

We can do this because of our buying advantage; our buyers' wisdom and foresight in buying heavily when prices were lower; our system of inventory and also because we do not waste money in giving premiums and prizes.

You may call this an unusual advertisement. But you are entitled to know why we are making such marked reductions during the January Clearance Sale and the management of the Gold Mine is glad to explain its reasons in this plain Statement of Facts.

Business Expenses May Be Deducted From Gross Income

Deductions from gross income in determining net income include all business expenses, which are the amounts actually incurred during the tax year in the conduct of a business, trade, or profession.

A merchant may claim as deductions the amount paid for advertising, hire of clerks, and other employees, the cost of light, fuel, water, and telephone used in his place of business, the cost of operating delivery wagons, motor trucks, and incidental repairs to such vehicles.

A physician may claim as deductions the cost of medicines and medicinal supplies used by him in his practice, a reasonable proportion of the expenses paid in the maintenance and repair of an automobile used in making professional calls, the expenses of attending medical conventions, dues to medical societies and subscriptions to medical journals, the rent paid for office rooms and the cost of heat, water, light, telephone, etc., used in such office rooms, and salaries paid to office assistants. The same deductions are allowed a dentist.

The farmer may deduct all amounts paid in preparing his land for a crop, and the cultivation, harvesting, and marketing of the crop. The cost of seed and fertilizer used and amounts spent in caring for live stock are deductible items. The cost of minor repairs to farm buildings, other than the dwelling, and of fences, farm machinery, and wagons may be claimed, also the cost of farm tools which are used up in the course of a year or two. The cost of machinery of a permanent character, such as thrashing machine or tractor, is held to be a capital investment, and is not an allowable deduction. Rent paid for a farm is deductible.

The principles underlying these allowances are equally applicable to the conduct of any trade, business, or profession. In short, all expenses connected solely and directly with the conduct of an income-producing business, trade, profession, or vocation are allowable.

Losses incurred by a taxpayer in any transaction entered into for profit outside of his regular business are allowed. Under the 1917 act deductions for such losses were allowed only to the extent of gains in similar

EQUIP YOUR CAR WITH A Universal Radiator Shutter

To drive an automobile without some method of keeping cold drafts away from the engine and radiator is just as wasteful of fuel as trying to warm a house in zero weather with all the windows and doors open.

The gasoline burned in the cylinders of the engine is the only source of heat. "THE UNIVERSAL RADIATOR SHUTTER" affords the only means of conserving this heat.

The longer the engine is kept hot and the fewer number of times it is started from or in a cold condition, the greater reduction you can effect in gasoline bills. That's just what you can do with a "UNIVERSAL RADIATOR SHUTTER." And it is easily controlled from the seat. No special tools or experience required to install shutter.

tution has a right to call the Legislature in special session. The people's chosen representatives must be left free to exercise their rights as law makers under the constitution when so called together.

"Art. 4, Sec. 10 of the constitution says: 'Each House when assembled shall determine its own rules of proceeding and shall sit upon its own adjournment.' Note the words 'when assembled' under this section of the constitution. In my opinion no outside authority, not even the individual members, when not assembled have any constitutional right to limit the action of the Legislature when assembled and no power on earth, save the Legislature when assembled can determine the nature of the proceedings or the time for adjournment.

"The Legislature is a law unto itself—subversive to no one except the people and subservient to them only through the constitution.

"Article five, section fourteen of the constitution provides that all bills left over and not signed by the Governor shall be filed with the secretary of state and the secretary 'shall lay the same before the General Assembly at its next session in like manner as if it had been returned by the Governor.' The secretary of state has taken an oath to support the constitution. He will, I believe insist on doing his sworn duty and I hardly see how the rest of us, who have taken a similar oath, can refuse to receive these bills for consideration when so presented.

"I pledge you my word that if the Governor sees fit to call the Legislature in special session, in a lawful and constitutional manner, I will do all in my power to secure the ratification of the Federal suffrage amendment. In any event I will help you all I can. Your cause is just and should not be obscured by questionable proceedings. I, furthermore, will do all in my power to use as few days of the time limit under the constitution and as few dollars of the state's money as possible.

"The public has a right to demand that public officials do their duty under the constitution. Public officials have a right to respect any other demands made of them. I know your intense solicitude in this important matter and I assure you my heart is with you.

"Regretting that I can not now sign the pledge, which I understand the Governor has asked you to procure, and otherwise assuring you of my co-operation, I beg a further continuance of your esteem."

objects of the census. The questions have been published and the people know what they will be asked before I arrive. I never fully appreciate the splendid help that the press can give in such matters until I began the enumeration."

The enumerators declare that they have found the public anxious to co-operate in making the count accurate and complete. Many people have volunteered information as to those who are rooming in this city and who might be overlooked by the census takers. It is pointed out that only by this method of co-operation can the census count be made accurate and complete. The enumerators appreciate such assistance as can be given them as they have found their task to be a difficult and exacting one at best.

Although the enumeration has not advanced far enough to permit anything like an accurate guess as to what the population will be, it is estimated on the basis of available figures, that it will stand between 8,000 and 9,000. It is reported that the population in the First, Second and Fifth wards will be in the neighborhood of 2,000 people each. The Fourth ward is smaller and the county may not show more than 1,200 people. The third ward is probably the smallest in the city and may have a population of about 1,000. Complete figures, however, may show that the early estimate is deceiving and the population may be even greater.

City officials had predicted that the population of the city would be slightly above 9,000. This estimate was based upon the former census, the number of voters in the city and the school enumeration.

WORKS HARD TO AVERT FLU EPIDEMIC

Government and City Health Officials Warn People to Keep Clean.

Stay Away from People with Coughs and Colds.

"Avoid crowds if you want to avoid influenza," says Association for Improving the Conditions of New York.

Keep your hands clean, drink plenty of fresh water; sleep with windows open; eat three uniform meals a day including a good breakfast.

People who have catarrh or frequent colds invite influenza, declares a prominent Kentucky druggist.

The membrane of the throat and nose is raw, sore and tender, and makes a lovely abiding place for germs to thrive and multiply.

He advises an inexpensive home-made remedy that will bring relief in less than a day and will stop all discharge and soothe and heal the inflamed membrane in a few days.

Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Four three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and snuff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat clean and healthy.

Nearly all druggists dispense Mentholized Arcine in vials containing exactly three-quarters of an ounce, which is all you need to make a pint of this healthful medicine.

I caught the rein of her horse, and Elsie, who was now wide awake, and trembling with fear, pressed forward, close to my side, moaning and casting her frightened glances backward. Kennedy was already started in advance of us on foot, leading his animal, and seeking to discover the quickest passage to shelter. On a narrow terrace the deputy halted us.

"I reckon maybe this yere is as gud as any place fer ter stop," he said rather doubtfully. "It'll be mighty dark in an hour, an' then we kin go on; only my hoss is about did up. What ye say, Cap?"

"We are probably as safe here as anywhere in the neighborhood. Is that all you have to report, Tim?"

He lifted his hat, and scratched gently his thin hair.

"Only that them Injuns went south. I done run out their trail after yer left—it was plain as the nose on yer face. That must'r bin a slew o' 'em, an' sum a hossback; they was a strikin' straight across yonder, an' I reckon they fetched a prisoner 'long, sumbody wearin' boots enyhow, fer I saw the tracks in the mud." He hesitated, as though something was on his mind, glancing toward the girls, and lowering his voice. "I ain't so very dern tired, an' reckon I'll scout 'round a bit. Them red devils might'r overlooked a rifle or two back thar in the timber, an' I'd sure like ter git my fingers on one."

I nodded indifferently, too completely exhausted myself to care what he did, and then dull-eyed watched him disappear through the trees. No one spoke, even Elsie failing to question me, as I approached where she and Elsie had flung themselves on the short grass, although her heavy eyes followed my movement, and she made an effort to smile.

"One can easily see by your face how tired you are," I said, compassionately, looking down at her. "I am going to sleep for an hour or two, and you had both better do the same. Tim is going to keep guard."

She smiled wearily at me, her head sinking back. I did not move or speak again; indeed I had lost consciousness almost before I touched the ground.

I could not have slept long, for there was a glow of light visible in the western sky, when a strong grip on my arm aroused me, causing me instantly to sit up. Tim stood there, a battered, old, long rifle in his hand, and beside him a boy of eighteen, without a hat, tousled headed, with an ugly red wound showing on one cheek.

"Mighty sorry fer ter wake ye, Cap," the deputy grinned. "This yere young chap is one o' them sojers; an' it strikes me, he's got a d— queer tale ter tell."

I glanced backward across my shoulder toward the others. Both girls were sleeping soundly, while beyond them, down the slope, the three horses were quietly cropping away at the herbage. I managed to rise.

"Let's move back to the spring, where we will not wake them up," I suggested. "Now we can talk."

My eyes sought the face of the lad questioning. He was a loose-lipped, awkward lout, trembling still from a fright he could not conceal.

"You belonged to that squad killed out yonder?"

"Yes, seh; I reckon I use the only one what ain't ded," he stammered, so tongue-tied I could scarcely make out his words. "I was gone after walter, an' when them Injuns begun fer ter yell, I never dun nuthin' but just run, an' hid in the bush."

"I understand. What is your name?"

"Well, Asa, I suppose those were militiamen; you belonged to the company?"

EASES A COLD

WITH ONE DOSE

"Pape's Cold Compound" then breaks up a cold in a few hours

Relief comes instantly. A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks up a severe cold and ends all the gripe misery.

The very first dose opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages in the head, stops nose running, relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! Clear your congested head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only a few cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, contains no quinine—Insist upon Pape's!

He nodded, his eyes dull, his lips moving, as though it was an effort to talk. Quite evidently whatever little intellect he had ever possessed, now refused to respond. Kennedy broke in impatiently.

"It takes that boy 'bout an hour fer ter tell enything, Cap," he explained gruffly. "I reckon he's skeered half ter death in the first place, an' then thar's sumthin' wrong with him enyhow. Howsmever, it's what he seed an' heard, Cap, that sounds mighty queer ter me. He sez thar was more'n fifty bucks in that party, an' that ol' Black Hawk was thar hisself, a leadin' 'em—he done saw him."

I turned, surprised at this statement, to stare into the boy's face. He half grinned back at me, vacantly.

"Black Hawk! He could scarcely be down here; what did he look like?"

"Bout six feet high, I reckon, with a big hooked nose, an' the blackest pair o' mean eyes ever ye saw. I reckon he didn't hav' no eyebrows, an' he wore a bunch o' eagle feathers, an' a red blanket. Gosh, mister, but the devil end'n look no worse'n he did."

"Was that him, Cap?" burst in Tim, anxiously.

"It's not a bad description," I admitted, yet not convinced. "I can't believe he would be here with a raiding party. If he was, there must be some important object in view. Is that all?"

"No, 'tain't; the boy swears thar was a white man 'long with 'em, a feller with a short mustache, an' dressed in store clothes. He wan't no prisoner nuther, but hed a gun, an' talked ter Black Hawk, most like he was a chief hisself. After the killin' was all over, he was the one what got 'em ter go off thar to the south, the whole kit an' kaboodle."

"I don't doubt that. There have always been white renegades among the Sacs and plenty of half-breeds. If Black Hawk, and this other fellow are leading this band, they are after big game somewhere, and we had better keep out of their way. I favor saddling up immediately, and traveling all night."

"So do I," and Tim flung a half-filled bag from his shoulder to the ground. "But I vote we eat first. 'Tain't much, only a few scraps I found out thar; but it's a way better then nuthin'."

Here you, Hall, give me a hand, an' then we'll go out, an' round up them hosses."

If the party of raiding Indians, whose foul deed we had discovered, had departed in a southerly direction, as their trail would plainly seem to indicate, then our safest course would seemingly be directed eastward up the valley. This would give us the protection of the bluffs, and take us more and more out of the territory they would be likely to cover. Within twenty minutes we were in saddle, descending the steep hillside through the darkness. Tim walking ahead with the lad, his horse trailing behind, and the long rifle across his shoulder.

I do not recall feeling any special fear. In the first place I was convinced that we must already be at the extreme limit of Black Hawk's radius, and that, traveling as we were eastward, must before morning be well beyond any possible danger of falling into the hands of his warriors. The other pursuers I had practically dismissed from thought. Shortly after midnight my horse strained a tendon, and could no longer uphold my weight. On foot, with the poor beast limping painfully behind me, I pressed on beside Elsie, both of us silent, too utterly wearied with the strain for any attempt at speech.

The rising sun topped the summit of the bluff, its red rays seeming to bridge with spurs of gossamer the little valley up which we toiled. I had

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Probably there is no other car that every day in the year meets the demand of the physician as does the Ford Coupe, with its permanent top, its broad seat and deep upholstery, its sliding plate glass windows, by which in a minute the car is changed from a closed car to an open car. Equipped with an electric starting and lighting system, demountable rims with 3 1/2 inch tires all around and embodying all the established merits and economies of the Ford car. lost my interest, and was walking doggedly on, with eyes bent upon the ground, when the girl beside me cried out suddenly, a new excitement in her voice.

"Oh, there is a cabin! See! Over yonder; just beyond that big oak, where the bluff turns."

Her eager face was aglow, her outstretched hand pointing eagerly.

The logs of which the little building had been constructed, still in their native bark, blended so perfectly with the drab hillside beyond, that for the moment none of us caught the distant outlines. Tim possessed the keenest sight, and his voice was first to speak. "Sure, miss, that's a cabin, all right," he said gruffly. "One room, an' new built; likely 'nough sum settler just com' in yere. I don't see no movement, ner smoke."

"Fled to the nearest fort probably."

I replied, able myself by this time to decipher the spot. "Be too risky to stay out here alone. We'll look it over; there might be food left behind, even if the people have gone."

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 10c and 25c
